1967 TETON

Unity first and victory second was the theme of the 1966-67 school year. As the year progressed, we became better citizens with the idea that what we had learned would be logically applied to our lives after graduation.

As we, the Class of 1967, look toward the future, we hope that the knowledge and experience that we have gained will be substantial in carrying us into a world filled with chaos and despair. The creation of new countries and the tenseness of diplomatic relations bring about misunderstanding and controversy among the people of the world. We hope that we can be influential in solving these problems and creating a better world.

FACULTY

Mr. Marben talks over an important business item during his busy day filled with numerous obligations and decisions.

The role of chief administrator of our school changed hands this year, as Mr. Anderson retired and assistant Principal Mr. Marben took over as the "head man." Mr. Anderson has long counseled and advised the students of our school but now the responsibility rests in the hands of Mr. Marben.

The Student Council provides an opportunity for the student body to assist in school government. This year, under the guidance of Mr. Miller, the Council came up with a new idea. On Student Government Day seniors were allowed to teach the elementary grades as well as classes in the high school. The experiment proved to be a success, with nearly all seniors taking part.

Guide Students Through Year

Chief executive officer of the School Board, Mr. Bruce Govig is the superintendent of Tracy Public Schools. As superintendent, Mr. Govig is responsible for general supervision and over all direction of operations of the district and for co-ordinating other functions within the school system including the direction of personnel, building maintenance, finance, administrative research, public relations, the school lunch program, and transportation. Preparing the school budget and executing the policies adopted by the School Board remain his most important duties along with keeping records and ordering supplies and material needed throughout the school year. Under Mr. Govig's capable leadership, District 417 will continue to be highly esteemed.

Mr. Govig checks over the blueprint plans of the new high school which hopefully will be started in the fall.

Miss Saupe received this beautiful flower arrangement from her Trigonometry class as a special Christmas present.

In our progressive and fast-moving world, mathematics is becoming more and more important as a basic step for work in the field of science. The opportunity to take practical and advanced mathematics courses are presented to all Tracy High School students.

General math and first year algebra, taught by Mr. Davis, Mr. Stanton, Miss Saupe, and Mrs. Anderson, provide students with a basic foundation in the challenging world of mathematics.

Miss Saupe teaches the advanced mathematics courses which are elective. These courses include plane geometry, higher algebra, trigonometry, and solid geometry. These courses help students prepare for work in the field of science.

Junior high students and those senior high students seeking a practical application of mathematics, concentrate on mastering the basic skills of mathematics that are useful in everyday life. Mr. Davis, Mr. Stanton, and Mr. Buck teach these courses.

Miss Livingston assists senior Allen Cooper as he prepares notes on his required research paper.

Talent And Basic Skills

The field of science is becoming increasingly important in today's modern world, since most everything revolves around it. Tracy High School offers its students general and advanced science courses to help them prepare for the future.

All junior high students are required to take general science, a study of photography, meteorology, astronomy, basic biology, chemistry, and physics. This course gives students a well-rounded background for many types of science courses. Mr. Garrett and Mr. Lauer instruct students in this course.

Senior high students are offered the advanced science courses of physics, chemistry, and biology. Mr. Lauer assists students in physics, the study of energy, and biology. Chemistry, the study of formulas, laboratory work, and the analysis of synthesis of compounds, and biology are instructed by Mr. Mattison.

Mr. Mattison looks on as Charles E. Lester takes roll in his Chemistry class.

Mr. Bolin reads the answers to a quiz taken by his history class.

Each year the students of Tracy High School are required to take some type of social studies. These courses teach the students of past events and how some of their important happenings apply to our lives today. The basic principles of our nation's government are taught by Mr. Bolin to junior and senior students.

Seventh graders are exposed to the world and its features in geography taught by Mr. Knutson. Mr. Mortensen teaches seniors the doctrines of our American government and basic essentials upon which our land is built.

This year, along with Mr. Sebastian, world history was taught by Mr. Anderson and Mr. Hatch. These teachers broaden the knowledge of our American Heritage by conducting a study of the world's civilization.

This year's history curriculum saw many changes as teachers assumed new positions in the field of social studies.

For Students Academic Qualities

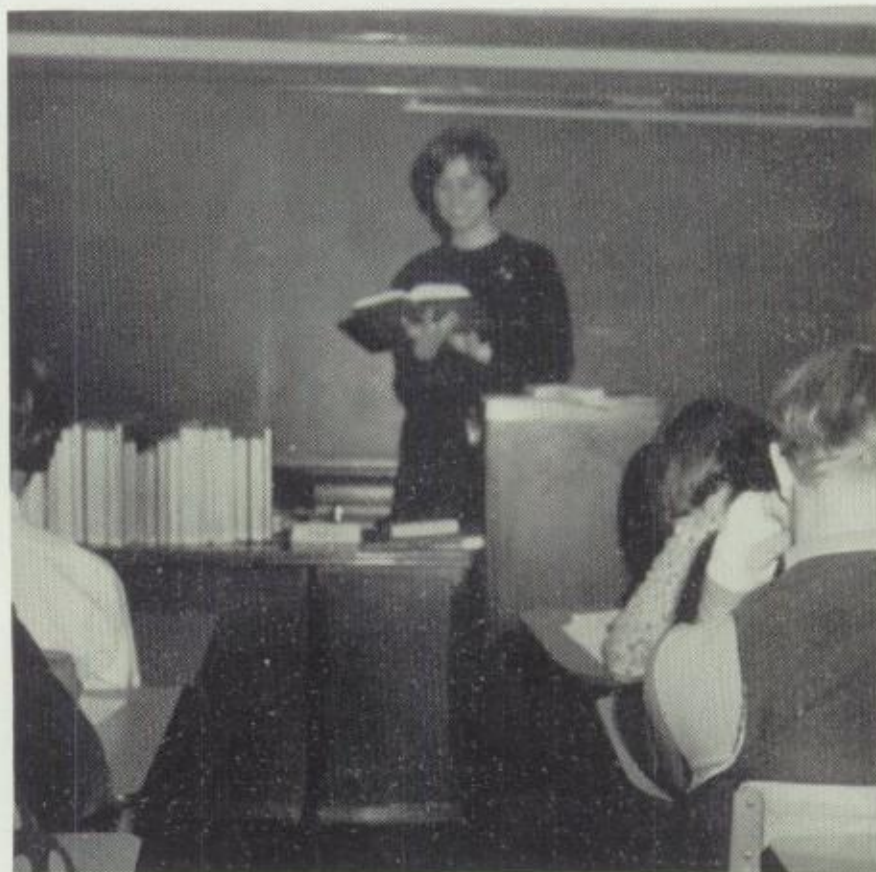

Without the basic understanding of the English language, our knowledge would cease to grow in all areas.

The foundation of English is laid in the junior high under the expert guidance of Mr. Drackley and Mr. Mortland, while the sophomores, under Mr. Werner and Mr. Landman, are exposed to steps that build the writers of tomorrow.

The junior year is highlighted by giving a ten minute speech and by reading selections from Early American Literature taught by Mr. and Mrs. Landman, respectively.

Seniors will never forget the long hours spent gathering notes for the research paper assigned by Mr. Werner. Nor will they forget the many pages of notes accompanying MacBeth and Pygmalion in their English literature class taught by Mrs. Landman.

Miss Julie Sebbert, a Mankato State practice teacher at Tracy, teaches one of Mr. Werner's sophomore English classes.

Mr. Busch teaches senior boys in Agriculture IV. They also discuss FFA projects during the year.

Home economics teachers, Miss Kirtz and Mrs. Busch, illustrate a couple sewing techniques to Haldis Drablos.

Art introduces to the students creativity with their hands. Seventh and eighth graders, who are required to take the course, learn how to paint, sketch, and make woodcuttings, and other things. Students who wish to further their ability in this field are guided under Mr. Marcotte's expert direction.

Under the direction of Mrs. Busch and Miss Kirtz, Home Ec students learn the arts of sewing and cooking. The course is required of seventh and eighth graders, who learn the basic fundamentals. More advanced topics are covered in the classes offered to girls in the ninth through twelfth grades.

Agriculture, the study of our nation's productivity, is taught by Mr. Busch. It is taken by many farm boys, ninth through twelfth grades. The curriculum includes the study of livestock, machinery, and farm business.

Mr. Buck makes use of the valuable charts during one of his bookkeeping classes.

Sophomores Kenneth Larson and Tom Hollingsworth concentrate on doing their "push-ups" as Mr. Brainerd keeps an eye on the class.

To Become Better Citizens

Business is primarily a course for students who plan a career in business, secretarial work, and office work. Typing, taught by Miss Sullivan, aids all students in future work. She also teaches stenography. Mr. Buck instructs business law and office practice. Mr. Mortensen helps him with the overflow of students taking bookkeeping.

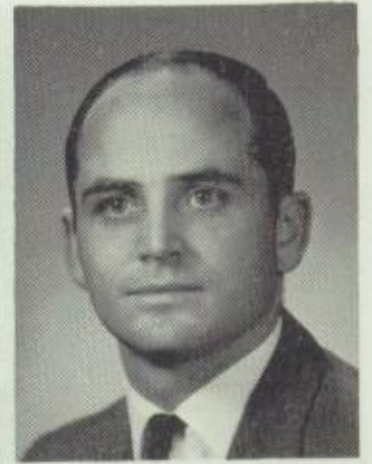

Mrs. Schaar and Mr. Brainerd teach the physical education classes which teach the basic fundamentals of such sports as basketball, soccer, volleyball, badminton, and table tennis.

Mr. Thompson, as head of the vocal department, and Mr. Peterson, instrumental director, are kept busy throughout the year preparing for concerts and contests. Music education classes are required for seventh and eighth graders. The classes, taught by Mr. Thompson, deal with composers and the history and types of music.

REMEDIAL READING

Besides the regular teachers, the school has many additional services which contribute to the effectiveness of the educational system. Mrs. Keul, the school nurse, supervises many immunization clinics for both the grade school and the high school. Mr. Miller, the guidance counselor, aids the students in selecting subjects for the coming year. He is also of great benefit to the seniors by giving them information concerning colleges and job opportunities. Mrs. Horsman assists students in remedial reading through a newly developed program of education. Mr. Rupp assists the music department under provisions of the new government aid program 89-10.

Additional Helpers Promote

Mr. Rupp, working under 89-10, assists Mr. Peterson in giving music lessons. Doug Wyfels is one of the many students assisted in this manner.

Mrs. Horsman helps Gail Goergen in a remedial reading project.

Janitors Dale Clark, Dale Alexander, and Frank Smith pose at the end of a day's long and tedious work.

Waiting for students to be dismissed from school, bus drivers Earl Lynch, Curt Reinert, Elmer Peterson, and Bill Craig step out of their buses to have their picture taken.

Smooth Operation Of School

In charge of the unending tasks of office work in Tracy High School are Margaret Ganshaw, Eva Lou O'Brien, Carol Grinde, and JoAnn Greenfield.

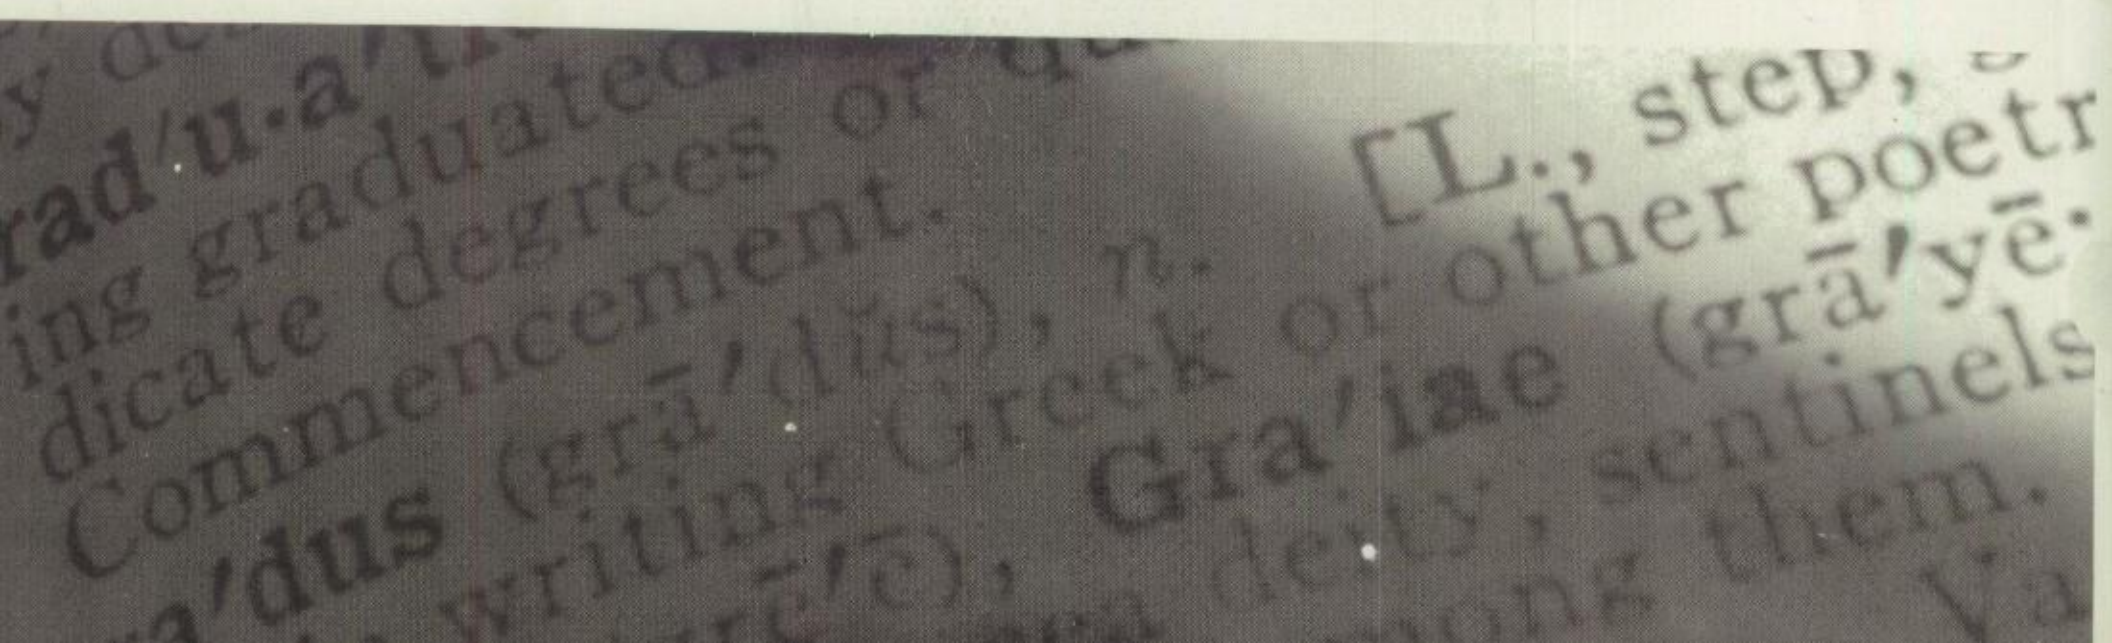

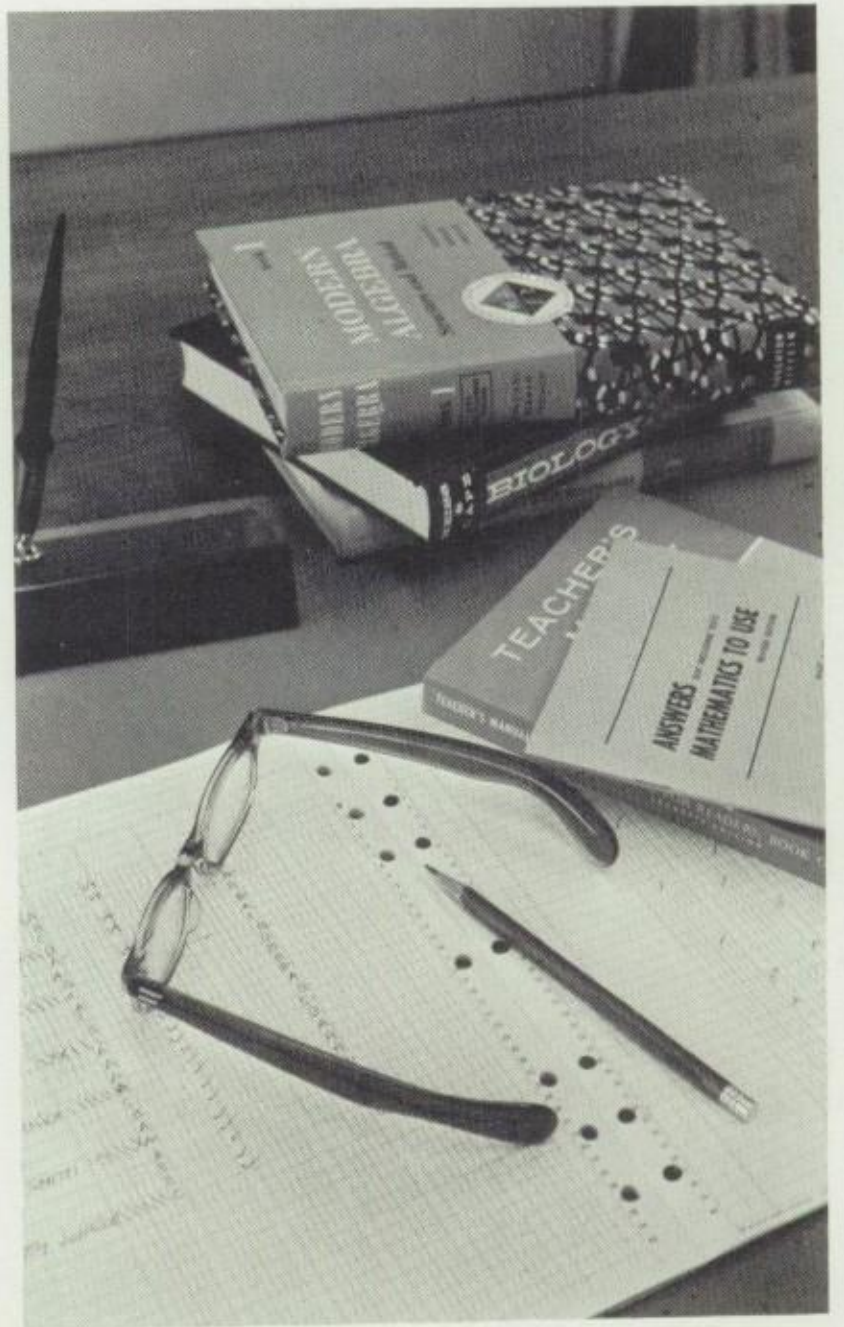

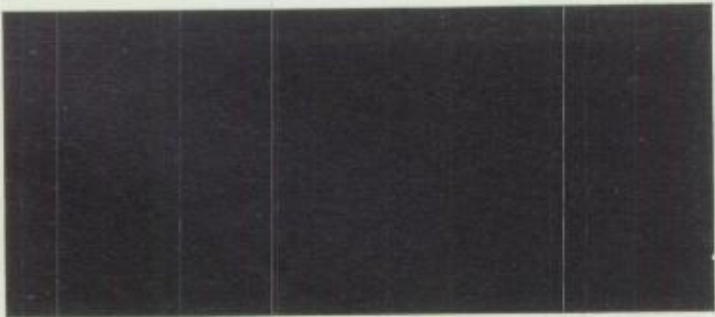

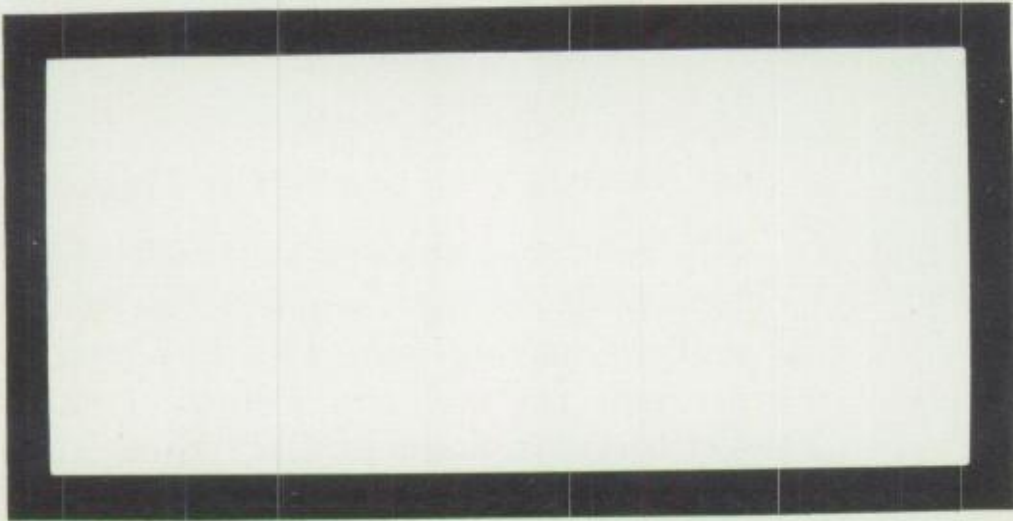

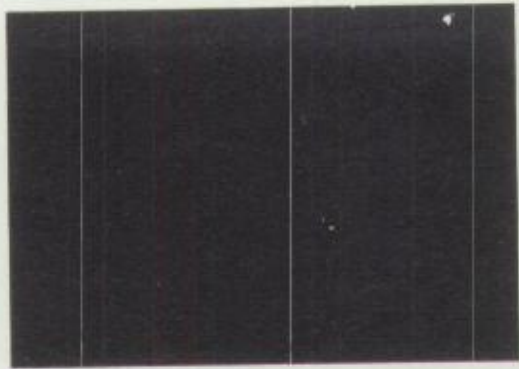

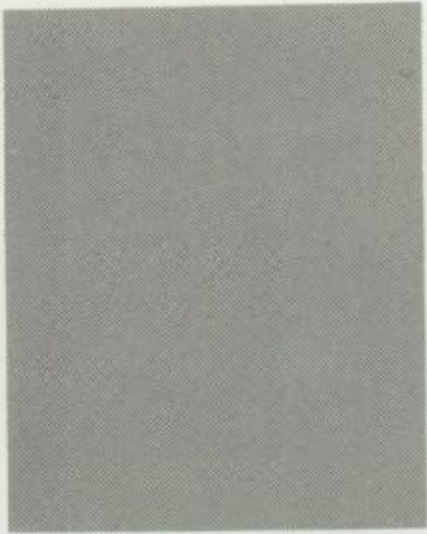

This year, Mrs. Troseth, Mrs. Gempler, Mrs. Doose, Mrs. Stefanick, and head cook Mrs. Radke provided students with well balanced and nourishing meals.

SENIORS

Haldis Drablos

Miss Haldis Drablos, a native of Norway, became Tracy High School's fifth foreign exchange student sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. She received her diploma with the Class of 1967.

Haldis arrived last August and observed for the first time the community of Tracy, which was to be her home for the entire year. She met her new family, the Vergil Bauers, with whom she was to live. One of her first community activities was to participate in the Box Car Day Parade, riding on a car that was designated for her recognition.

Haldis participated in many varied activities throughout the year. She sang alto in the choir and girls' chorus, was a member of the Student Council, FHA, GAA, and Tracer Staff, with her own column.

We thank Haldis for enriching our lives and providing us with unforgettable memories throughout her year among the students of Tracy High School.

Through Unified Effort, We

Haldis Drablos and her American sister, Mary Bauer, sit down and enjoy the scrapbook that Haldis presented to her family.

Dear Students and Teachers at THS,

My year as a student at Tracy High School is almost over, and in a few weeks I shall be leaving you. This has been a great year for me, and I know I shall never forget it. Some of you I know well, others not very well, but all of you have contributed to make this an unforgettable year for me.

It has been a pleasure to go to school with you and have you for teachers. I think myself, I have learned many things; and I am very grateful that I got the chance to come to Tracy as the foreign exchange student this year.

I am now going back to Norway to continue my education. I know I shall miss you, but some day I hope to come back and see you again.

Thank you! Good bye, and may God bless you all.

OUR RING

One of the highlights of the senior year is receiving announcements. This year's announcement was distinctly designed and proved to be a wise choice.

Individual picture distribution was a big job for the Teton Staff and a large amount of time was spent in sorting them into the various piles representing classrooms. The Teton Staff met on Monday nights and successfully executed their tasks.

The graduating class of 1967 was honored on May 26, 1967 in the Municipal Auditorium as commencement exercises took place. The commencement speaker was Dr. Quinn Brunson of General Beadle State College, Madison, South Dakota. His topic for the address was "A Matter of Esteem."

At the graduation exercises, Superintendent Bruce O. Govig announced several major award winners and the band and choir performed excellently. Principal Arthur E. Marben presented the Class of 1967. Steven Knott, Senior Class President, read the names of the seniors as they stepped forward to receive their diplomas from Mr. John Vahle, president of the school board.

The 103 class members chose the peace rose as the class flower and wine and rose as representatives of their colors. "To know, to love, to esteem—and then to part," was chosen as their motto.

The Senior Class of 1967 has brought many new ideas to Tracy High School. "Senior Power" has been ever present in urging underclassmen to forge onward to that ultimate and most cherished goal—GRADUATION.

QUEEN SHERRY

Homecoming is the magic word which recalls old friends, hard work, and pretty girls; but most of all, football. The highlight of the event was the introduction of the five queen candidates: D'Ann Booth, Suzanne Cain, Sherry Lynch, Paula Moen, and Nancy Shaw.

"Make the C-Hawks Squawk" was the winning Homecoming slogan from the many ideas submitted by the students. Preparations during Homecoming week grew to a feverish pitch as the days quickly slipped by.

The traditional parade and snake dance began the afternoon activities. Following the pep fest at the bank corner, the students moved to the high school auditorium where the cheerleaders led enthusiastic yells and the band played a number of rousing pep songs.

The Homecoming festivities were climaxed by the game Friday night against Canton, South Dakota and the crowning of Queen Sherry Lynch during half-time.

Awaiting the approach of football acting captains, Dave Hippe, Tom Keul, and Doug Johnson, who will name the 1966 Homecoming Queen are the five candidates shown on the field at

With Canton's and Tracy's records equal at 2-1-1, the student body and team went into the Homecoming game with high spirits. The enthusiasm rose when Jerry Kathman made the game's first touchdown and Doug Johnson finished up the first half with a seventy-yard run, though not a touchdown. Tracy was behind 28 to 7.

At half time, the band played "Everything's Coming Up Roses," "Tunes of Glory," and went into the traditional crown formation. The height of the celebration was the crowning of Sherry Lynch by acting co-captains Doug Johnson, Tom Keul, and Dave Hippe. Queens and co-captains from 1941 to 1965 were saluted by the band as an added feature.

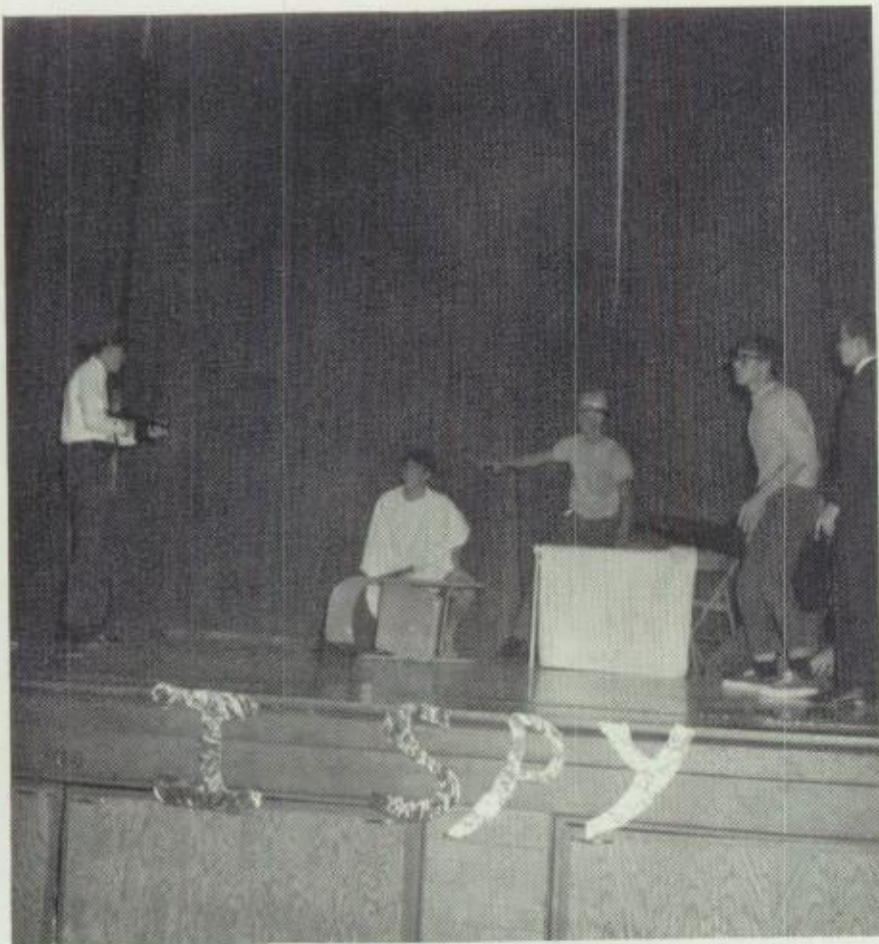

Although spirits were dampened by the 36-13 loss to Canton, the Grand March, led by Queen Sherry and her escort, Dave Hollingsworth, and the music of "P. J. and The Sleepers" made the evening one to remember.

Were Spectacles of Success

Charles Lester and Paula Moen go through the painful ritual of reading the Senior Class Will presented to the junior class by the seniors.

"I Spy" set the scene for the 1966 Junior-Senior Return held October 28. Paula Moen and Charlie Lester read the wills presented to the Juniors from the Seniors followed by the skit, "Get Stupid." Maxwell Stupid, portrayed by Doug Johnson, found himself in big trouble when he picked up a knife off the street. There was a secret message hidden in the knife and the "Flush" agents weren't about to let Maxwell get away with the knowledge of the message. They brought him to the Flush headquarters, where Kelly Robinson (Bill Roemer) and Bill Cosby (John Glaser) came to the rescue. During the fight, at the local pool hall, the local "fuzz" (Tom Keul) shot them all because they were smoking as minors, and read the secret message concerning combat boots. The "Attractions" provided enjoyable dance music.

Sophomores Jerry Kathman, Jeff Blanchette, Steve Voss, Chuck Knott, Mary Cain, Peggy Baumann, Nancy Holm, and Paula Nelson served lunch following the program.

Highlight of the FFA-FHA party was the crowning of the FFA Sweetheart, Diane Furan, by Steve Knott, who was crowned FHA King by Santa Claus.

'Go-Go' Theme Highlights Party

Believe it or not, everyone was dancing when the photographer stopped the action at the annual FFA-FHA Christmas party in the high school auditorium. "Mistletoe A-Go-Go" was the theme for the annual event but the photo shows not much "go-go" at the moment.

Tracy High School's concert band under the direction of Mr. Clinton Peterson is presenting the opening selection at the 1966 Christmas Preludes program in the auditorium. Theme of the concert was "I See Christmas, I Hear Christmas, and I Feel Christmas."

Preludes Program Heralds Christmas

The cooperative effort of the FFA and FHA produced "Mistletoe A-Go-Go," this year's theme for the annual Christmas Dance. Under the mistletoe, couples danced to the lively sounds of the "Emeralds" from St. Peter. Santa, played by Chuck Lester, and his elf, Maynard Almjeld, were there to provide many laughs. The crowning of Diane Furan as FFA Sweetheart and Steve Knott as FHA King highlighted the evening's events.

The wonder of Christmas was beautifully expressed by this year's production of Preludes. Mr. Marcotte, Mr. Austin, and their departments provided the background for the theme, "I Hear Christmas, I Feel Christmas, I See Christmas." Under the direction of Mr. Peterson, the band opened the program with two selections. Following the band, Mr. Thompson led the vocal groups in songs of praise. A brass choir, a woodwind choir, and wind ensembles added to the memorable program. The night's climax was "Do You Hear What I Hear" sung by combined grade and high school choirs accompanied by an instrumental ensemble.

Music instructors Mr. Thompson and Mr. Peterson confer on music for the annual "Preludes" program which is a Christmas concert gift to the community. It is performed by high school choir and band and staged by the art and industrial arts departments with Mr. Marcotte and Mr. Austin.

Cindy Rue as Cinderella is a whining, critical, sharp-tongued, and self-centered beauty. Her father, Sir James Wilfer (Brian Ludeman), is oblivious to his daughter's faults and indulges her every wish. Her stepmother, Lily Lady Laughingtower (Barb Rue), feels that Cinderella's attitude is only temporary.

Cinderella's stepsisters Pamela (Jo Knuth) and Diana (Jackie O'Brien), come close to recognizing Cinderella for the selfish personality she is.

The old nurse Humpleby (Roxanne Erickson) unquestionably obeys Cinderella while Flora (Nancy Warren), the maid, often loses patience with her.

Her fairy godmothers add a note of confusion as they try to advise Cinderella. Dame Eva (Kris Peterson) admonishes Cinderella to change her selfish ways while Dame Lilith (Bonnie Klein) encourages her to continue making life miserable for her associates.

The play reaches a dramatic climax as the Prince (Ron Flatequal), vain and conceited, arrives to claim Cinderella as his bride-to-be.

The fairy tale concludes as everyone but Cinderella and her Prince live happily ever after.

"She is the one!" says the Prince's valet (Chuck Bicek), as he tries the golden slipper on Cinderella's (Cindy Rue) foot.

Thespians

The Junior Class production of "The Cinderella Complex" by Sir Osbert Sitwell was a rousing success. Since everyone knows the traditional Cinderella story, the twenty-member cast relied on characterization to keep the audience chuckling.

The Cinderella-story-in-reverse involved a bossy Cinderella, a kind stepmother, and loving stepsisters, as well as boy friends, fairy godmothers, radio announcers, household servants, and numerous family friends.

The stage crew worked hard to create an imposing fireplace and a giant TV set while the prop committee collected furniture from all possible sources to transform the stage into a comfortable living room. The publicity, ticket sales, make-up, costume, and music committees also worked hard to make the play successful.

Rose Blesener was student director, assisting Mr. Landman.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY CAST S. Steinberg, M. Guimond, N. Zens, P. Ludeman, M. Bauer, L. Arnt, P. Moen, and J. Shoeman.

The play, "Blithe Spirit," by Noel Coward, is centered around Charles Condomine (Jack Shoeman), a promising young author whose attempt to stage a setting for a new book ends up in a state of hilarious confusion. Madame Arcati (Mary Bauer), a psychic medium known for rematerializing dead people, is invited to the Condomine home for an evening. While she is there, she goes into a trance and produces Charles' first wife, Elvira (Nancy Zens). Trouble ensues between Charles and his second wife, Ruth (Paula Moen) because Elvira is visible only to Charles and he has difficulty in making other people believe that she is there. After Ruth's death (caused by Elvira) Charles is confronted with the problem of trying to get rid of his two wives—both of them now "blithe spirits."

Present Talented Performances

The senior class play was performed before a large crowd this year as the small group of thespians worked harmonizingly well to produce a splashing success.

The play was "Blithe Spirit," a haunting farce by Noel Coward. The play involves a boisterous medium who conducts a seance with a writer so that he may write a book. Although the seance is not letter perfect, the materialization of the writer's first wife proves to be quite humorous and embarrassing.

The audience also had a role in this year's play. They were required to create an attitude of the "willing suspension of disbelief" for the play. With the help of their student directress, Sally Steinberg, and the various committees, the senior class play turned out to be a great success.

"One two, one two," is what Madame Arcati (Mary Bauer) is saying to the ghost's (Nancy Zens) head, although she is really speaking to her feet.

Rose Blesener, Kristin Peterson, and Maynard Almjeld sit down and admire the trophy that their play won at the District Nine One-Act Play Festival.

Spotlighters is an organization established to promote skill in speech and dramatics and to develop interest in these accomplishments throughout the student body. This goal was achieved through various activities, including speech contest, one-act play, a trip to the Guthrie theatre, and a props drive.

The club's officers were Jackie O'Brien, president; Roxanne Erickson, vice-president; Connie Peterson, secretary-treasurer; and Paul Ludeman, librarian.

Tracy was named winner of the district one-act play contest for its presentation of "No Exit," a dramatic play by Jean-Paul Sartre.

"No Exit" is the story of three people in hell who discover that hell is not physical torture—instead, hell is "just other people." Rose Blesener, Kris Peterson, and Maynard Almjeld were cast members. Mr. Landman directed the play.

Portraits Were Successful

The band presented its half of the program with ease and talented musicianship.

Dressed as munchkins are the prom servers Melvin Klein, Sonja Starks, Calvin Ludeman, Karen Leonard, Paul Blesener, and Jeanne Budolfson.

By following the yellow brick road the juniors and seniors found themselves in the mystic "Land of Oz" at the Junior-Senior Prom of 1967. With a little "wizardry" the juniors transformed the gymnasium into the "Land of Oz." The scheme included the looming face of Oz at the entrance, the Emerald City castle, graced by delectable sugar plum trees, the professor's ballroom, a lollipop stand, with the munchkins as servers, and a rainbow under which an orchestra from Huron, South Dakota provided the evening's music.

The program, emceed by David Hollingsworth, was highlighted by the junior octet singing "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," "Bouree," and "Tenderly." An untitled skit about teenage life in the Land of Oz was also presented to those attending the party.

The evening was colorful and enchanting and the faculty and students had a very enjoyable time.

"Land Of Oz" Presented

Couples attending the Prom danced dreamily through the "Land of Oz."

Providing some of the entertainment at the Prom was an octet comprised of Debbie Silvernale, Bonnie Klein, Scott Drever, Dave Hollingsworth, Bruce Larson, Mike Ginter, Cindy Rue, and Renee Eggen. The octet sang three songs which all related to the theme of the evening.

To Seniors By Juniors

Paula Moen accepts a certificate and a pin for the DAR "good citizen" Award from Mr. Miller.

Leroy Larson receives the Bausch and Lomb Science Award from Mr. Lauer for outstanding work in the field of science.

Deserving Seniors Receive Awards

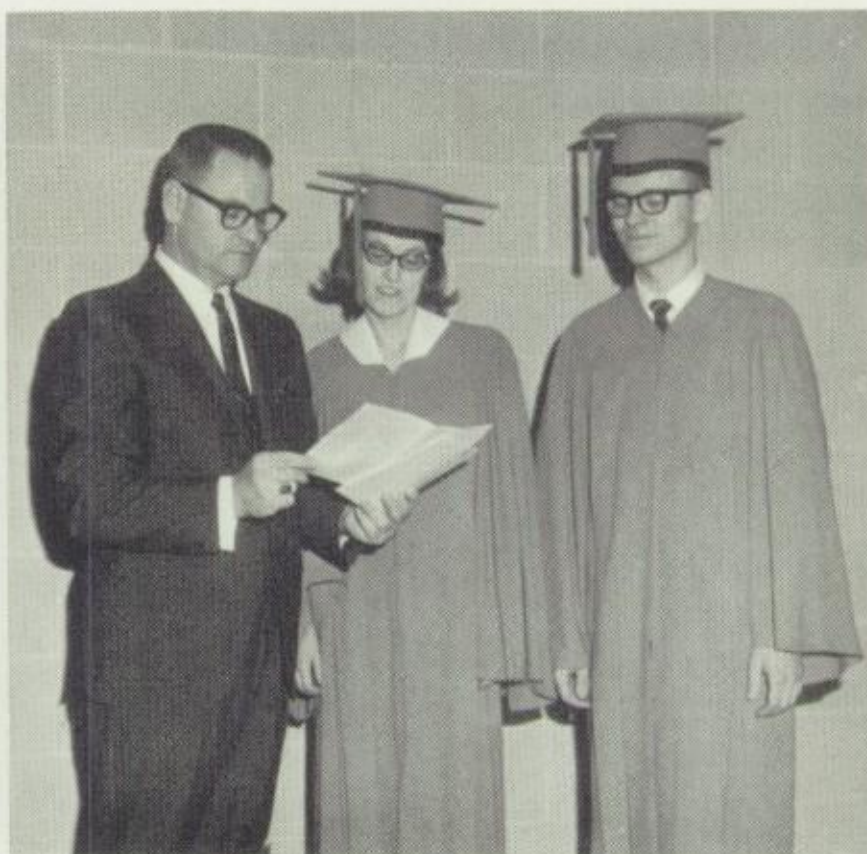

Mr. Sebastian presents Tom Keul with the "Athlete of the Year" Award. It is one of the top awards given on Awards Day.

Junior High Citizenship Awards went to Kurt Marben and Sandy Bjorklund and Senior High Awards went to Nancy Zens and Steve Knott.

Legionnaire Donald E. Buzzell presents Doug Johnson and Sherry Lynch with the American Legion Citizenship Awards.

Mr. Marben discusses the commencement program with Valedictorian Harlan Naylor and Salutatorian Elizabeth Galstad.

Worthy Of Their Efforts

Mr. W. David Abernethy presents David Hippe with the Kenneth Sletten Memorial Fund Scholarship. It was presented by the Abernethys for a senior boy whose qualities and activities most resembled those of Ken.

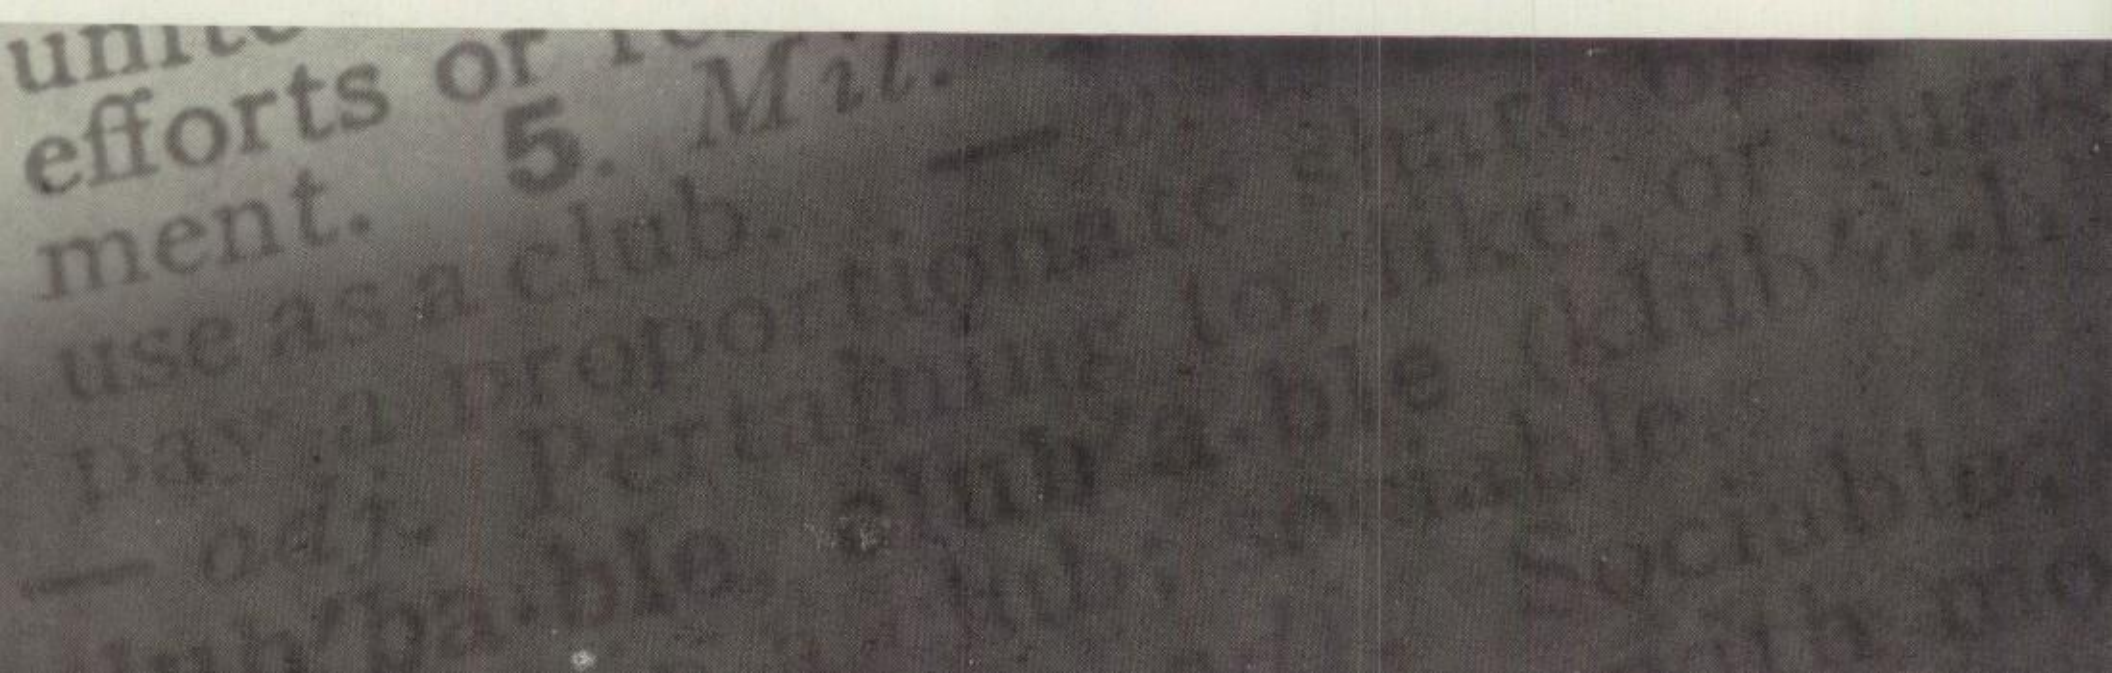

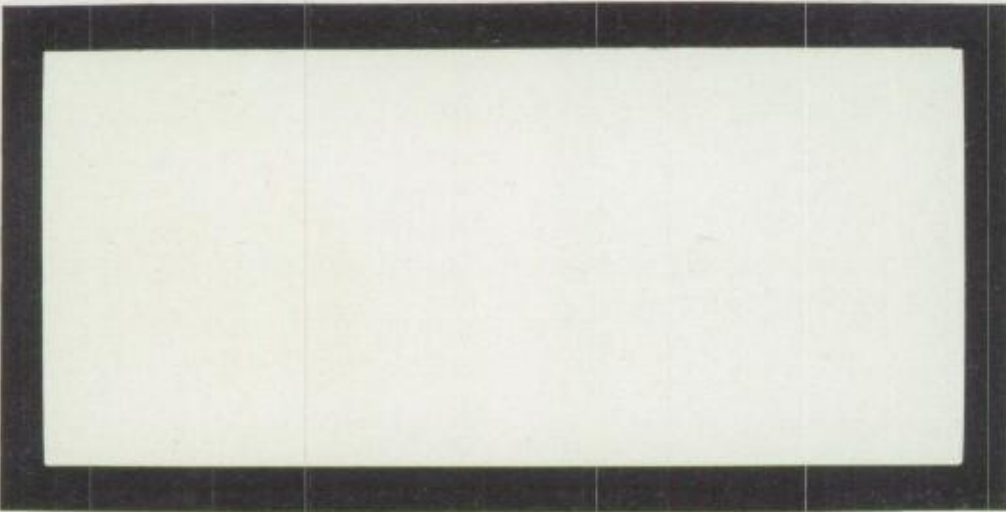

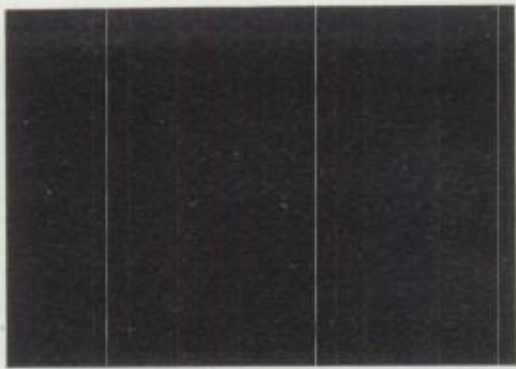

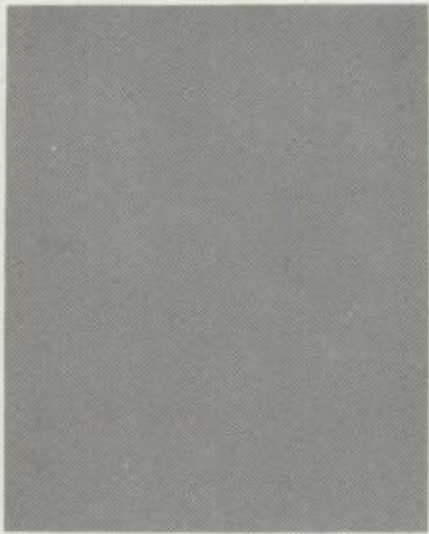

Allen Cooper receives the "Outstanding Music Student" Arion Award from Mr. Peterson. It is one of the top awards given on Awards Day.

The Year A Successful Season

The Tracy High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Clinton Peterson, worked hard for a successful year in 1966-67. Fourth hour every day was spent in diligent work to develop and do the most with their creative ability. They strived to reach perfection in each appearance made throughout the year. Christmas Preludes and Portraits in Melody are two performances that the band demonstrates to the public the polished effect of their hard work. Every spring they participate in Contest in order to receive a rating, along with many surrounding schools. Also, the summer months are spent in giving outdoor concerts and leading the Box Car Day Parade.

One main job of the band is to back the mighty Scrappers in all sports activities. They show musical ability and school spirit in and out of band and represent a fine group of students who try to attain fun out of hard work.

Dance Band And Junior High

Rhythmaires officers Tom Keul, Alan Hubbard, and Kathy Weedman discuss the possibilities of a new piece for the dance band.

Tracy High's dance band, the Rhythmaires, provided popular music for various occasions. They could be heard practicing on Tuesday or Thursday nights. The music they played was mostly twelve-eight measure counts, or syncopated rhythms. Instruments included in the organization were the lead saxophones, trombones, cornets, baritone, bass viol, drum trap set, guitar, and the piano.

A couple of the band's new numbers included "Mame," and "Somewhere My Love." The Rhythmaires appeared at the Milroy Junior-Senior Prom and the Franklin Junior-Senior Prom.

Officers included Tom Keul, president; Kathy Weedman, vice-president; Alan Hubbard, secretary - treasurer; and Mr. Peterson, director.

Choir And Girls' Chorus Work Hard

All-State Choir participants, Allen Cooper and Debbie Silvernale, look over a piece of music with Mr. Thompson before their performance at the annual MEA Convention.

Under the direction of Mr. Thompson, the sixty-eight-voice choir was guided through a superb year of "learning by doing." The choir included in its yearly schedule appearances at clinic, homecoming, Christmas Preludes, Portraits in Melody, and graduation as well as music contest. Members learned to appreciate good music through various selections performed during the year.

"Alleluia" and "I Have Longed for Thy Saving Health" were the selections performed by the choir at contest. The choir also had the chance to perform on KEYC-TV, Mankato, on the "Sounds of Christmas" program.

The Boys' and Girls' Choruses, as well as vocal ensembles, added a musical flair to various school assemblies and long hours of practice resulted in top ratings at district and state-regional contests.

The choir achieved a high level of vocal ability to help prepare the student for a richer and more cultural life.

The Junior Triple Trio consisting of Roxanne Erickson, Bonnie Klein, Kris Peterson, Jackie O'Brien, Cynthia Holm, Linda Kirkpatrick, Debbie Silvernale, and Rose Blesener practice on a number for contest.

Each year Tracy High School conducts excellent vocal work in both Girls' and Boys' Choruses, directed by Mr. Gene Thompson. On Mondays the sound of soprano and alto voices can be heard practicing for various programs, such as Christmas Preludes, spring recital, Contest, and Portraits in Melody. Rose Blesener is accompanist for this group.

Tuesdays bring about a group of baritones, basses, and tenors that together form the Boys' Chorus. They, too, practice for the various programs that are performed each year.

Each evening is taken up by different small ensemble groups that practice for contest and outside appearances such as Kiwanis, Prom, and other organizations and activities. These include the Senior Mixed, Senior Boys' and Senior Girls', along with different Junior and Sophomore ensembles.

Of Doing Good In Various Areas

The Service Club is a very important organization in our school. The club sponsors a drive to collect funds for the Community Chest. The Community Chest includes donations to the Red Cross and for our local Sunshine Society. Each home room receives a 100% sign when the collection is completed.

The library is a very busy room during the whole school year. The Library Club, consisting of sophomores, juniors, and seniors, assists in making books and other reading materials available. The members help by repairing old books and filing new books. Library personnel also help the students and faculty by checking out books and shelving others.

Unity In '67 Expressed Through

FFA officers this year included Bob Lenertz, Steve Knott, Brian Ludeman, Dick Drackley, Dean Fultz, Calvin Ludeman, and advisor Mr. Busch.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Busch and Miss Kirtz, the Tracy Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America once again forged successfully on "toward new horizons." This year was characterized by high hopes and the satisfaction of knowing that everything was a success. Two of the highlights this year were the annual trip to Minneapolis, and the Spring Style Show. Officers for the year were Beth Galstad, president; Darcy Wendorff, vice-president; Lynn Arnt, secretary, and Kathy Weedman, treasurer.

The FFA also experienced a year of success with the help of their advisor, Mr. Busch. At the FFA Banquet, Dick Drackley was presented with the Outstanding Farmer Award. Some of the projects included a crop show, and a corn drive; the proceeds of which were sent to Camp Courage.

Tracer And Teton Staffs Gain Skill

At one of their meetings, Teton editors Sherry Lynch, Suzanne Cain, Allen Cooper, Nancy Zens, and Mary Bauer discuss layout of pages for the upcoming deadline.

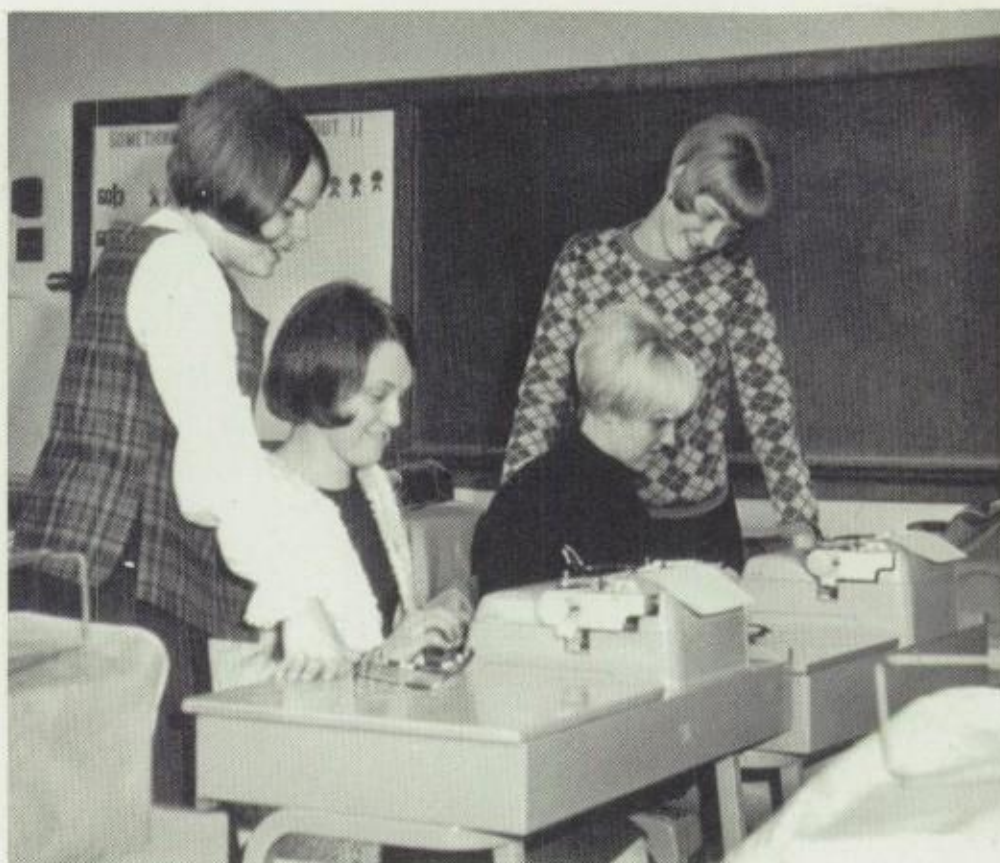

Doubling as pep sign painters, Teton staff members Mary Byrne and Sherry Lynch busily prepare a sign for a basketball game.

The yearbook staff worked industriously and intensively to produce a new and better yearbook. As editor, Allen Cooper, and his assistant editors, Sherry Lynch, Mary Bauer, Suzanne Cain, and Nancy Zens, worked harmonizingly well in order to create new ideas for the annual. Long hours and hard toil characterized this year's Teton.

Tracy High School's newspaper was published this year by Janet Wyffels and Paula Moen. Assistant editors, who also provided a helping hand, were Bonnie Klein and Cindy Rue. Although some students felt disappointment in not seeing as much gossip in this year's Tracer, a more effective and informative newspaper was produced.

Tracer editors Paula Moen and Janet Wyffels look on as assistant editors Bonnie Klein and Cindy Rue prepare assignments for the next edition.

The Science Club is an organization of voluntary participation of senior high students with a special interest in scientific research. Science Club offers an opportunity for the growth of the gifted students while at the same time, it seeks to aid the average student. Just as all other extracurricular activities, the Science Club continually seeks to challenge the minds of its members.

Each year the Tracy Science Club sends representatives to the Science Fair. This year the prestige of Tracy High School was maintained by eight people who represented Tracy at the annual Regional Science Fair. They are: Greg Von Bokern, Alan Hubbard, Ruth Guimond, Leroy Larson, Alaine Rykhus, Barbara Lanoue, Harlan Naylor, and Jack Shoeman. The desire to participate, imagination, open mindedness, thoroughness, and curiosity are all characteristics of the first class scientist.

Self-Expression Creates Talent

Annette Goss, Art Club member, and Mr. Marcotte, Art Club advisor, discuss the process in making linoleum block prints. Linoleum block prints are just one of many projects that the Art Club does during the school year.

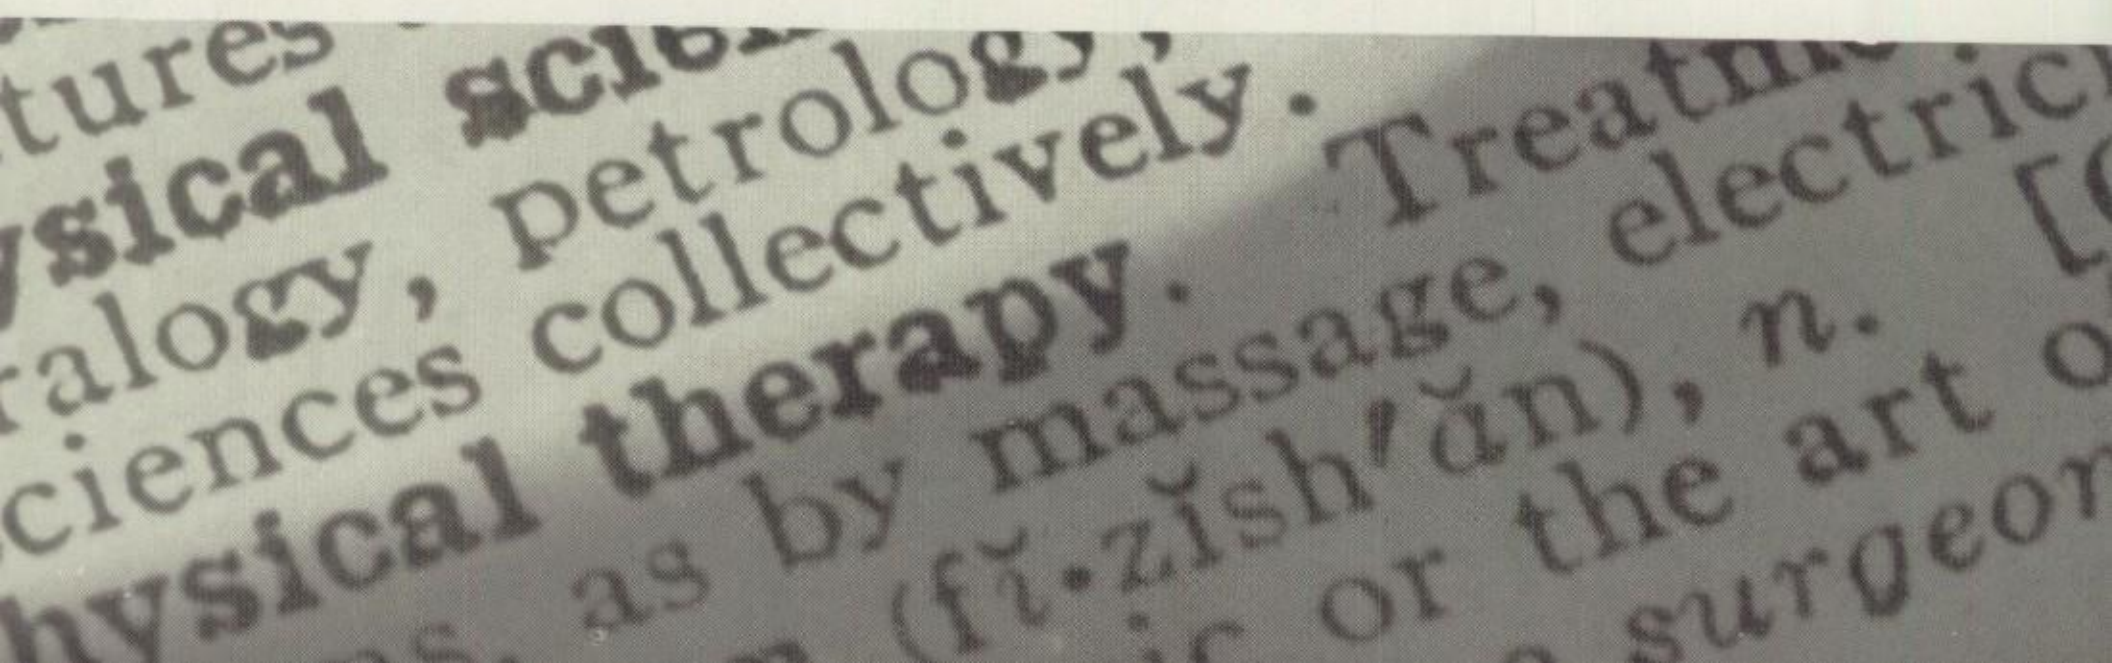

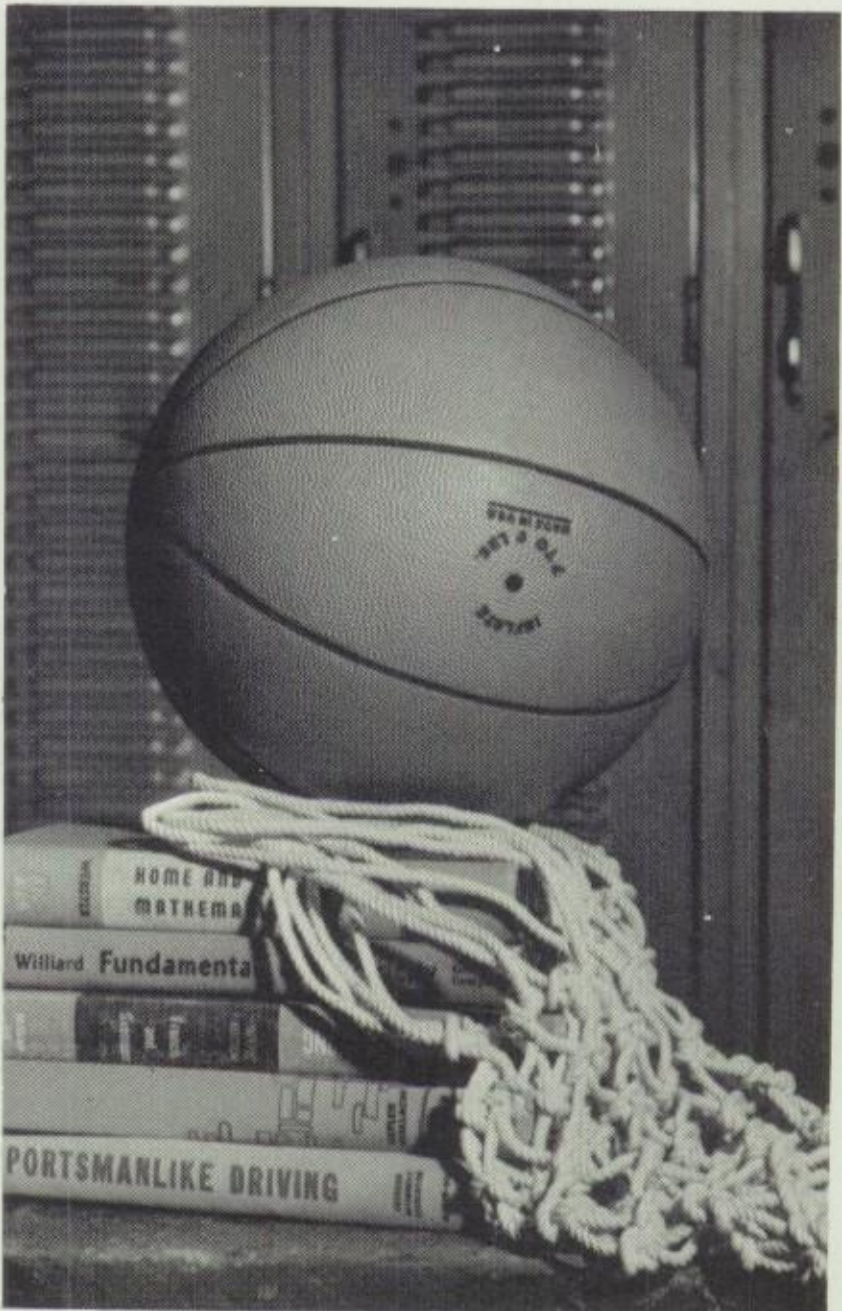

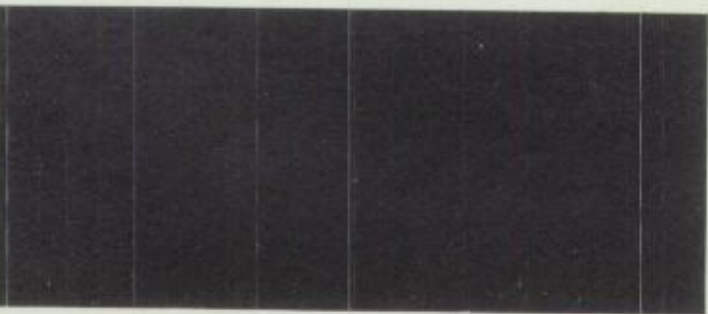

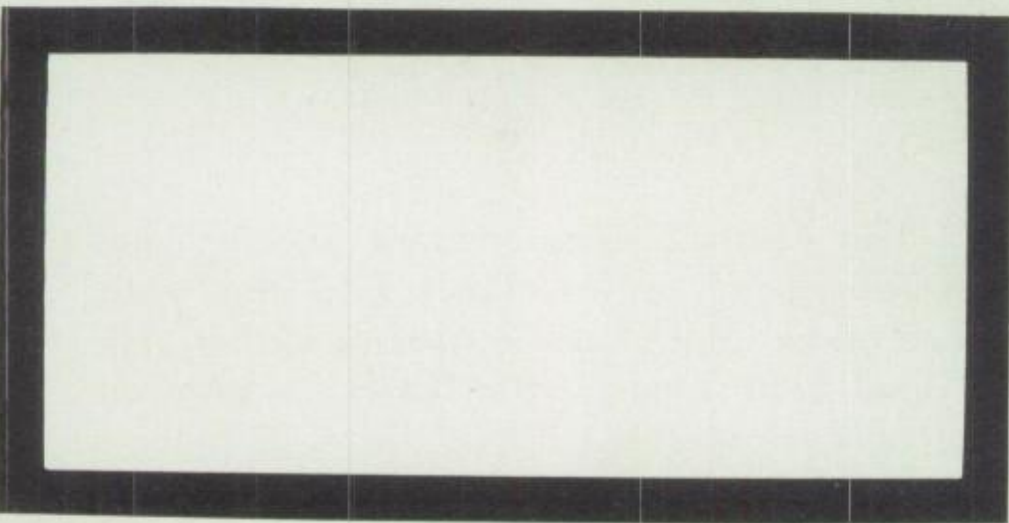

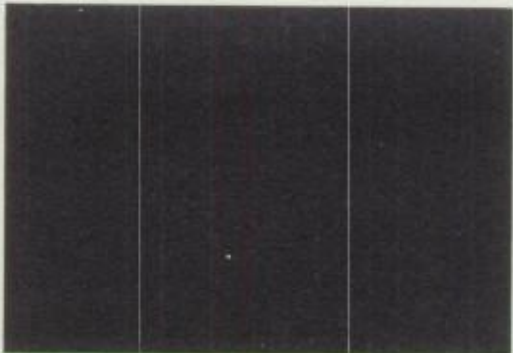

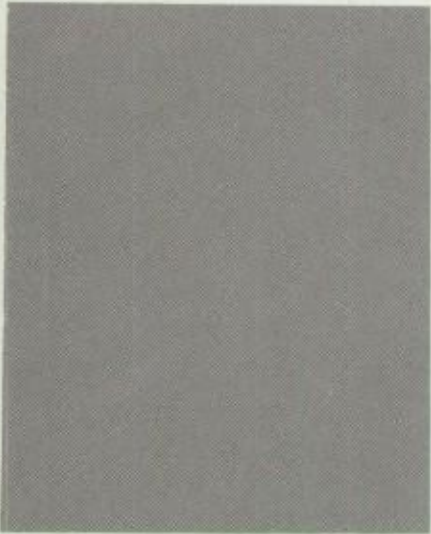

The Art Club of Tracy High School is an opportunity for any student to communicate through self-expression. As they meet weekly, they are given a chance to work on their projects, learn new ideas, and receive helpful information on their projects. Projects of the 1966-67 Art Club were: frescos, wood cuts, linoleum, sculpture, and numerous paintings.

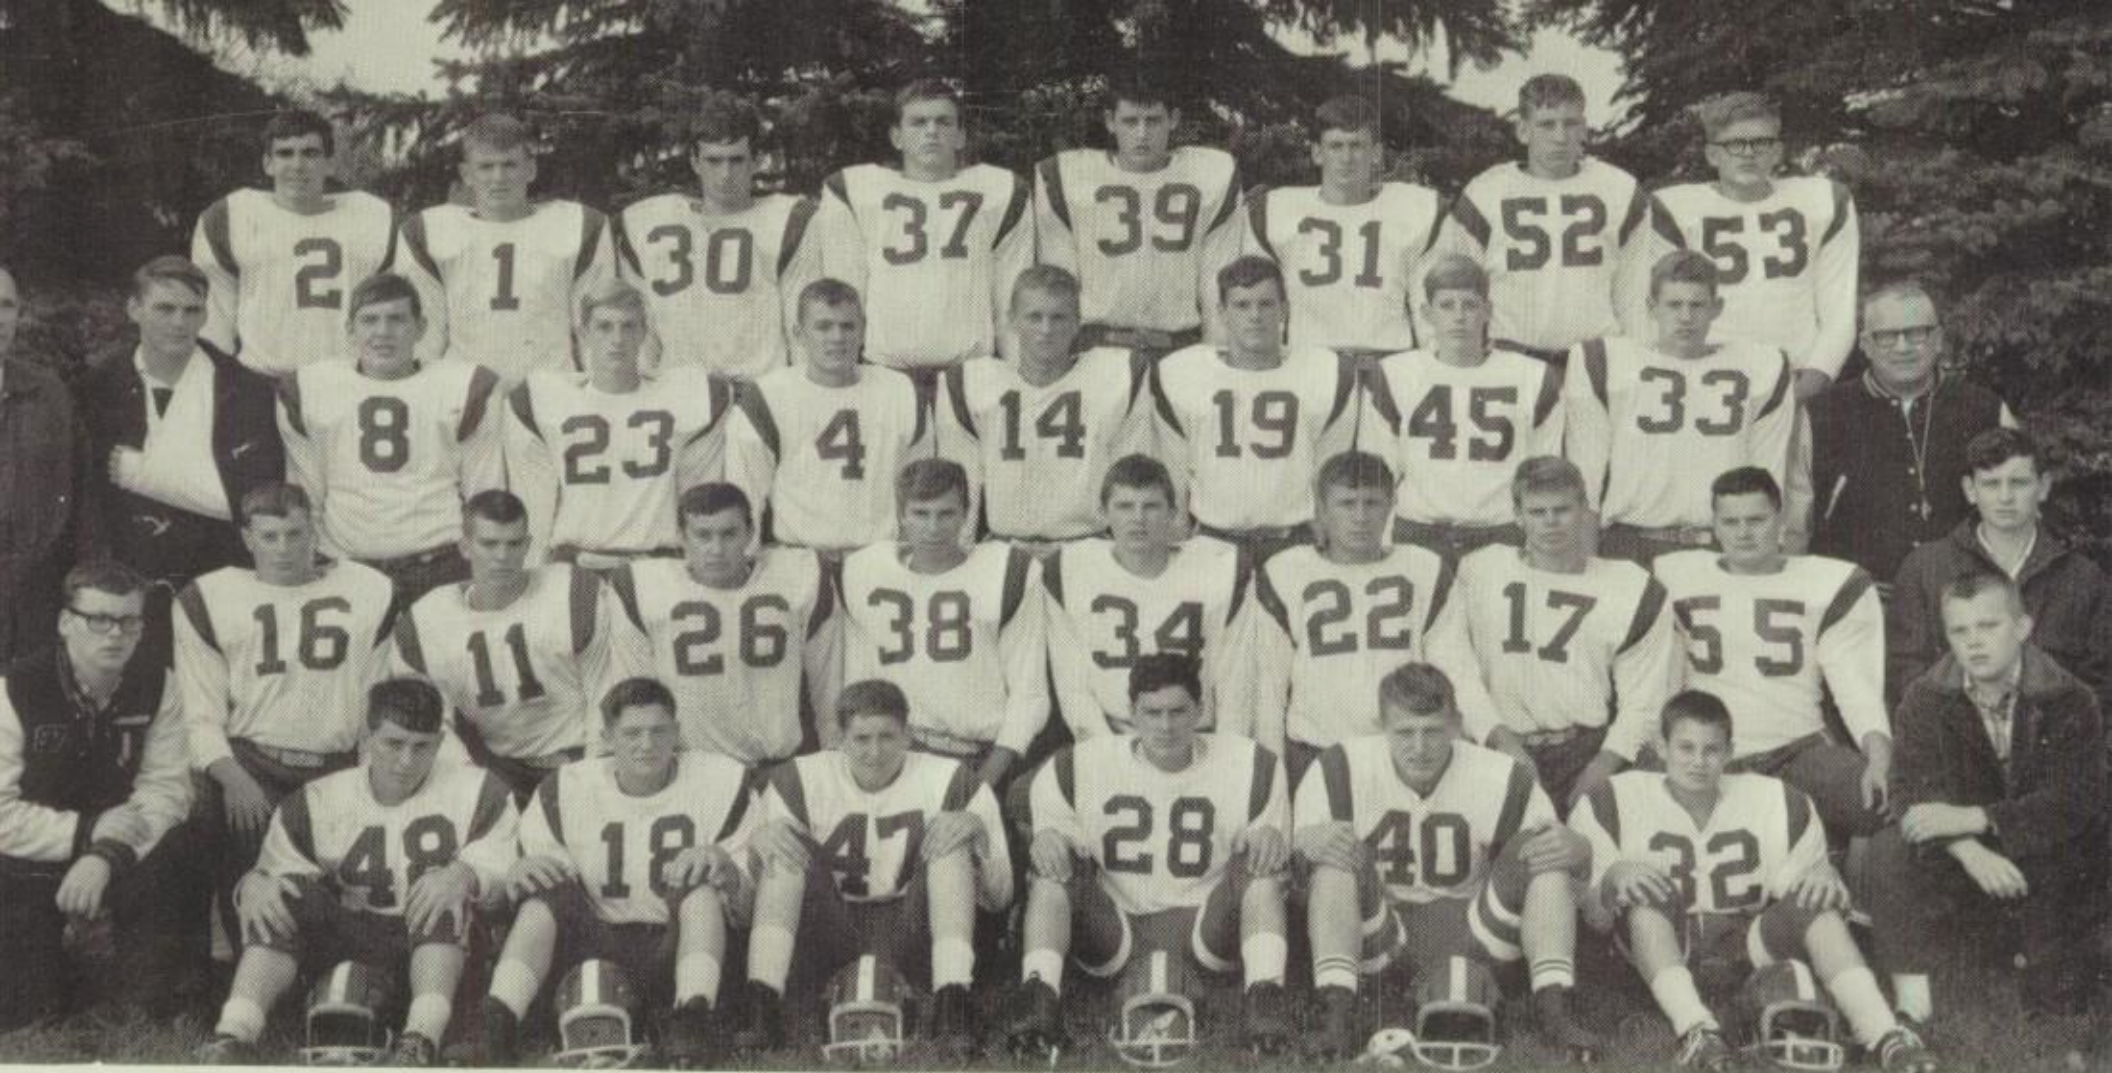

The Art Club members took a trip to the famous art centers in Minneapolis for their field trip this year. While there, they were guests at the Walker Art Center and the Minneapolis Institute of Arts. At the Minneapolis Institute of Arts they were taken on a guided tour. They also viewed many inspiring pieces of art done by renowned artists.

Hard-Working Gridders Set

Doug Johnson flips pass over Wells defender putting on rush. Despite surprising many and leading most of the way, Tracy lost a 33-28 decision in the final seconds.

The football teams proved exciting and heartbreaking to the Tracy fans this year. Led on by Coach Leo Sebastian's victory yell, "Yea! Rah! Tracy!," the Scrappers went on to fight for success.

The Scrappers proved to be stiff competition as the team was supplied with a lively offensive unit which concentrated on making the touchdowns while the equally strong defensive unit kept the opponents from scoring. This year's team was fortified with undying spirit and unprecedented Scrapper cooperation.

Although the scoreboard showed defeat three times, the Scrappers actually outscored their opponents by a margin of 155-141. Students of Tracy High School hope that next year's returning players will uphold the initiative and spirit that is characteristic of the Tracy Scrappers.

Seniors Tom Keul and Doug Johnson were chosen as honorary co-captains by their Scrapper teammates at the annual banquet which climaxed the 1966-1967 football season.

Scrapper Dave Hippe successfully gets off a shot in the pressure filled game with the team from Walnut Grove.

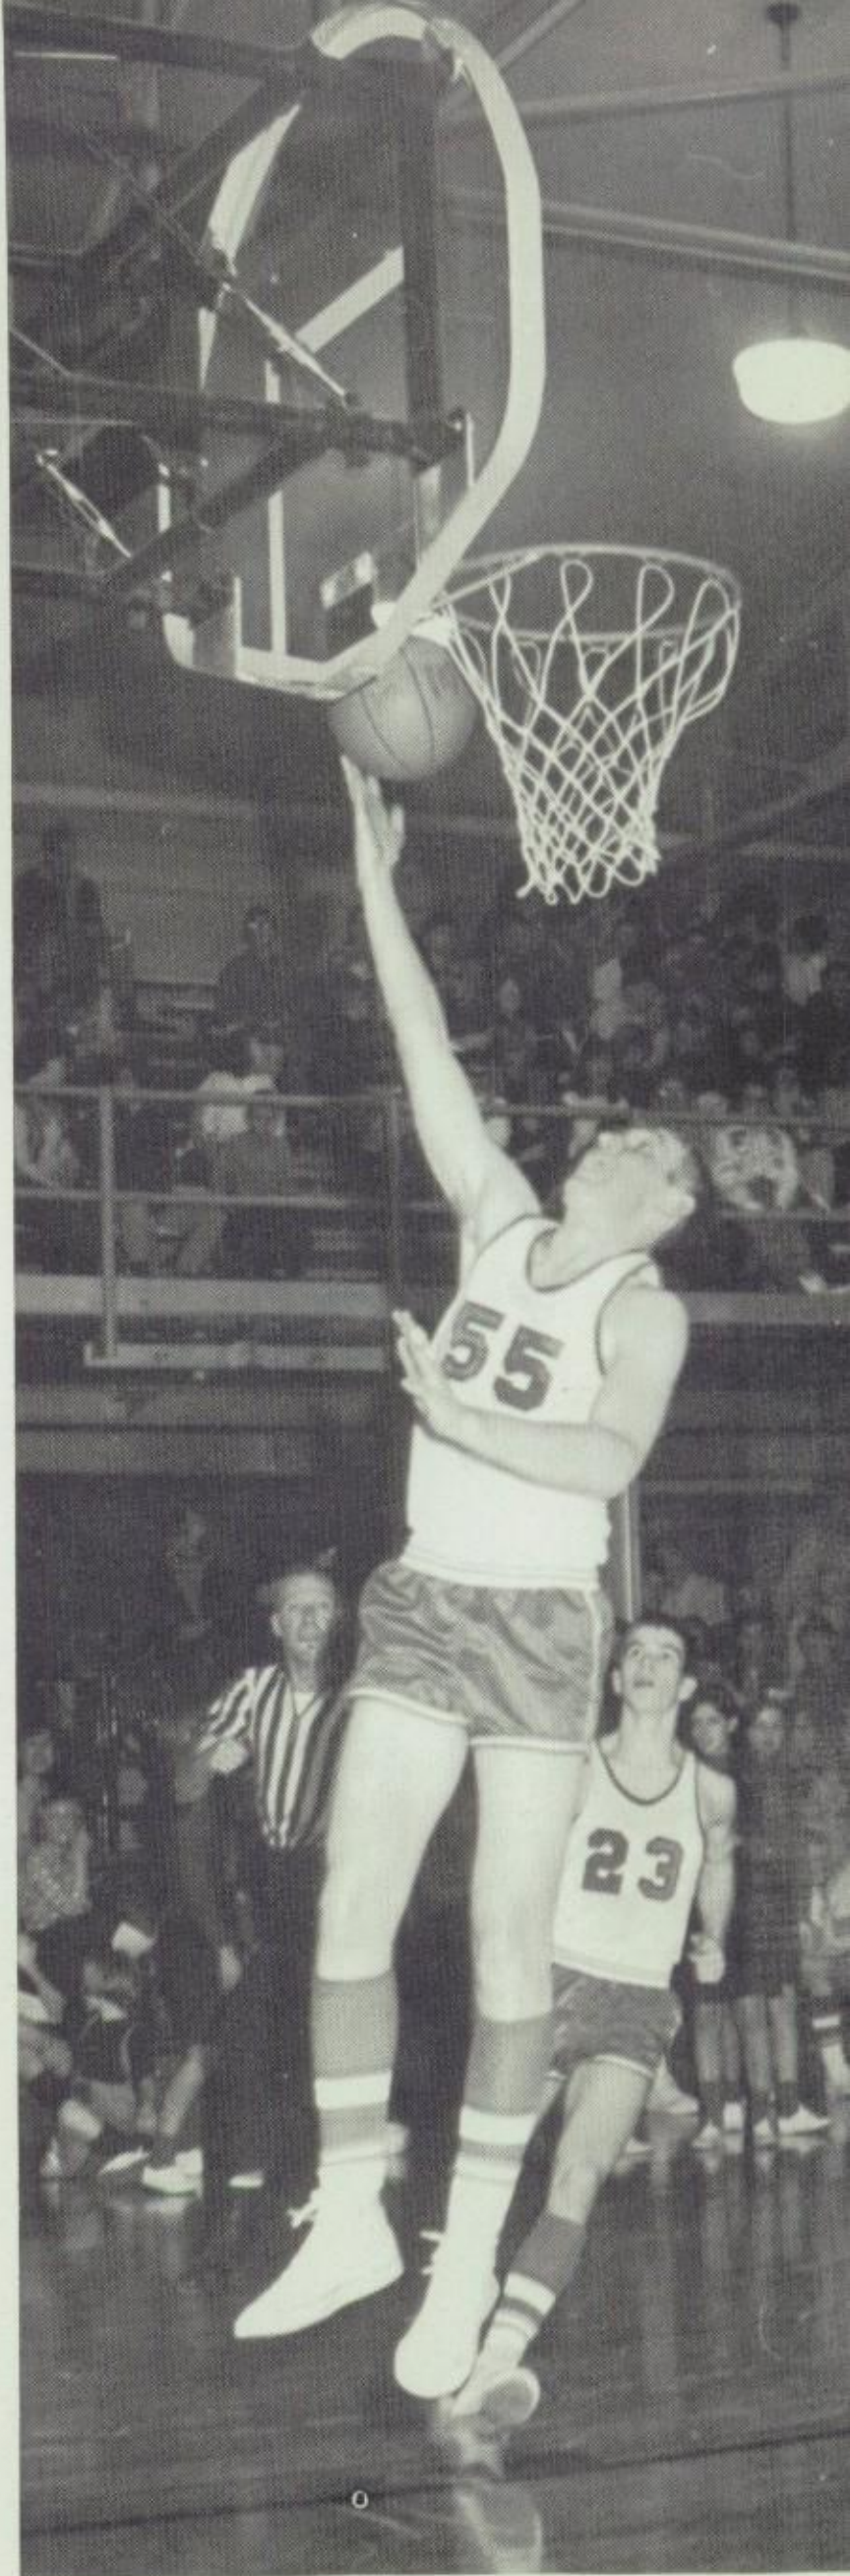

Made Great Gains

This year Coach Hatch and his new assistant, "Shorty" Engel, piloted Tracy to a 12 and 5 regular season mark. The Scrappers were characterized by a "don't-give-an-inch" defense and a running offense.

These traits were illustrated especially well in Tracy's upset victories over state tourney entry, Walnut Grove, and previously undefeated, District 12 champion, Renville.

In the early part of the campaign, five Senior let-termen carried much of the load. But as the season wore on, bench strength increased and substitutes came through with some very fine performances.

Tracy, ranked second in the district, opened District play with a first round victory over well balanced and eighth-ranked Balaton. Next the Scrappers met sixth-ranked Cottonwood. Defense was the key in that battle as Tracy advanced to the finals. Marshall's 53 percent from the field to Tracy's 26 percent summed up a Marshall victory and ended another successful season for the Hatchmen.

All alone, Al Cooreman goes up for a lay-up during one of the many exciting and close Scrapper games.

Grapplers Fought Hard To Keep

In the crucial test against the Jackson BlueJays, Bill Leysen appears in control of his man. The Scrappers won the event, by the score of 22 to 16.

The mighty Scrapper wrestlers, under the coaching of Dee Brainerd produced twelve wins and suffered one loss. Spectators were all treated to many thrilling matches as the wrestlers showed their superior strength.

Four of our wrestlers took titles at the District held here in Tracy. Loren Greenfield at 103, Cal Ludeman at 154, Dave Van Meveren at 165, and Steve Knott at 175. A week later Cal and Dave both took second place in Region III, also held in Tracy. Since both Cal and Dave were second, they represented Tracy at the state tournament held in St. Cloud. Dave won third place honors at 165 pounds.

The B-Squad performed very well and since six matmen are graduating seniors, Coach Brainerd's second year here will be spent building another great Scrapper team.

Tracy's baseball team, guided by new coaches Bill Bolin and Shorty Engel, finished the regular season with a six and four record. In the district, Tracy defeated Balaton and chief rival Marshall before falling to Cottonwood in the semi-finals of the tournament.

In golf, Tracy placed third in the district behind Canby and Marshall, in that order. The Scrappers, who fell short in the bid for a repeat of the district crown, had a fine regular season which included wins over both Canby and Marshall.

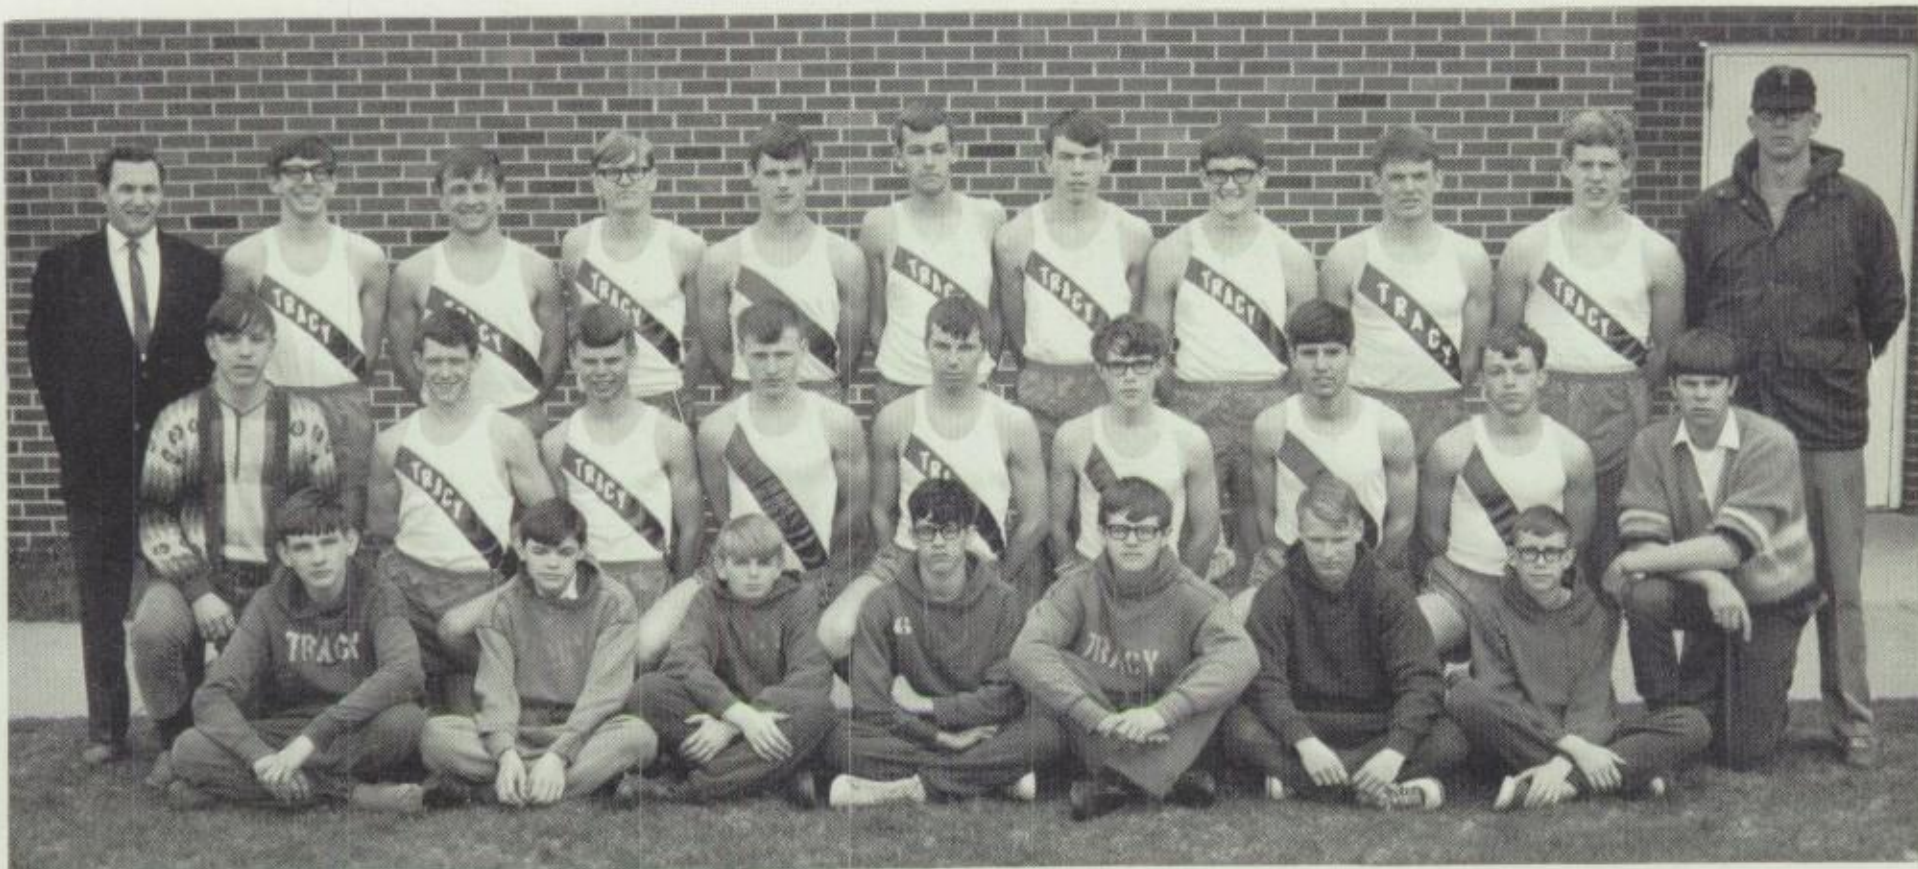

Tracy's track team had an excellent season, losing only to Marshall, while beating every other team they faced in quadrangular meets. Many school records were broken during the season, which ended with Tracy coming within one and one-half points of Marshall and of winning their first district title.

A service as well as an honor, cheerleading requires enthusiasm, sportsmanship, vitality, and loyalty. This year's cheerleaders were exceptional in carrying Tracy's name through the football, wrestling, and basketball seasons in honor and, with the help of the student body, pronounced Tracy a winner of notable sportsmanship and school spirit. Chosen in the spring of each year by a combined faculty-student body vote, these girls work hard throughout the year to unite and support Tracy.

Increasing in activity, the Girls' Athletic Association, or G. A. A., enables high school girls to cooperate with enjoyment through sports. They are shown the fundamentals of such sports as volleyball, soccer, basketball, tumbling, and apparatus, and are given the opportunity to develop such qualities as leadership, fair play, and good judgment.

As we, the Senior Class of 1967, say good-bye to Tracy High School, we hope that the goals and achievements we have attained will make us better citizens in the world we are about to enter. "To know, to love, to esteem—and then to part."

Colleen,
I will never forget a had the fun times we have these past years and at O'Kahoye the really had fun at in the future the really? Good luck in Always!
didn't see? God Bless and May Love,
Love,
Pat

Colleen,
We had lot of and fun these years and we had some interesting discussions over Lynn's problems, didn't we? Really,
I think of school, it was kind of a riot. Have fun at Canby - & good luck.
Sally

Colleen,
I'll always remember Prom night. We had just as much fun.
Always keep trying and you'll make it.
Always remembering Sharyn

Colleen,
we've had a very wonderful year with so many good things
I can't mention them all. I wish you all the luck in the world
Love

Colleen

We had many great times together and I sure hope they will always continue. I don't think I'll ever forget all the problems we had during our years at Tracy. I won't ever forget our great times of fun. I hope we will always still be friends, even if we're so far from each other now. I wish you the best of luck & success forever

Love
Lynn
